Shruga Base, located in northern Israel, is the headquarters of the Golani Brigade and its special units. Established in 1948, the Golani Brigade is the oldest brigade of the regular forces of the IDF. The Golani tag insignia, the olive tree, signifies the soldiers' deep roots in the land of Israel. Like the olive tree, the new green branches it grows represents the new generation of combat soldiers who draw on the roots of Golani.

We hope you will join us in Israel, your participation in this project has made it all possible.
